EMPLOYMENT LAW & SOCIAL SECURITY

Employment Law & Social Security

They are the ones who support our clients on a daily and constant basis in daily labor aspects and in highly complex issues, preventing potential conflict situations, planning and helping them implement human resources policies, negotiating collective labor agreements and collective conflicts, and representing companies before unions and other trade union entities.

They are those who have to deal with restructuring and reorganization processes, those who with patience and tenacity follow daily the course of judicial claims before national, federal and provincial courts, who are always attentive to advise on issues related to occupational risks; those who give support and containment to the expatriate dreamers who come to occupy positions in local companies, those who roll up their sleeves to face audit and due diligence tasks.

Our experience extends to the most diverse areas: food, technology, communications, health, postal services, medical technology, hospitality, cleaning, aeronautics, sports, transport services, insurance, construction, supermarkets, metalworking, automotive and auto parts industry, banks and financial services and public service concessions, in which our team has to interact with all levels of the structure of the companies, going through Human Capital, General Counsel, CFOs and CEOs.
