TMT & Data Privacy

Our special team of lawyers who handle Technology, Media & Telecommunications (TMT) matters, provides a comprehensive service to national and international clients, from startups to big companies.

In this area, our team provides legal support, guidance and innovative solutions encompassing the challenges that new regulations and TMT issues creates in the management of the day-to-day business and in the development of new corporate goals. Our experience -reflected in the continuous growth of the firm's TMT team over the years- and multidisciplinary approach allows us to provide adequate legal counseling assistance fit for each client's specific needs.

Our team handles the legal impact of disruptive technologies (such as AI, blockchain, NFT, IoT, Bigdata, Metaverse, quantum computing) in every industry specific regulation. We provide a thorough, detailed and out-of-the-box advice on the contingencies and alternatives that the regulatory framework provides for each request. With that mindset, we draft, negotiate and execute all necessary agreements required to implement our clients' business plans and strategies.

With a deep knowledge on different TMT areas such as IP, telecommunications regime, consumer defense, fair trade, advertising law, data privacy and local regulatory matters, and a comprehensive approach, the main characteristic of our team is the accuracy and fast delivery of work. We understand that time is essential for the adequacy of the client's needs.

We are committed to provide the best legal assistance and have firsthand knowledge of the legal updates within this fast-evolving legal area. All of this can be reflected on the growth of our team.
